

TARIFF PICTURES.

In 1874 Great Britain supplied the bulk of the cotton yarn needed by China and Japan. India sent to those countries to the year named only pounds of yarn. In 1891 India exported 105,000,000 pounds of cotton para to the same countries, displacing just so much English yarn. Free-trade does not capture new markets for England. It cannot even hold her old markets.

1,000,000

THE SIZE OF IT.

Courier-Journal.—The girl who has been expelled from a Charleston, S. C., church because she is compelled to work a few hours in a telephone office for her own and invalid father's support, might have been allowed to remain in the church if, instead of working in a telephone office, she had secured a job to work in a church choir, sing with the contralto's husband and between songs and flirtations serve up the congregation on the tuning fork of scandal.

ALL IN YOUR EYE.

New York Press.—It is safe, as reported, that there has been discovered in an Egyptian tomb a cosmetic which will give a beautiful green hue to the human eye. Congress, when it assembles, should lose no time in preventing the importation of the article to this country. One has only to watch the daily newspapers to be convinced that the most treacherous home wrecker in America is the green monster that lurks in the eye of mankind.

BERKSHIRE SLANDER.

New York Press.—The New York World was prominent among the Democratic slanders that described the stanch and capable dispatch boat Dolphin as "worthless," and assured John Roach, her builder, with洋洋自得的神情, that a heavy article in The World.

It is safe to say that no delphin ever traveled so far in twenty-three months as its namesake of the new Navy. She has a record of 50,000 knots, with a stoppage of only one hour and a half. She has visited all the prominent seaports of the world, and was attached to five United States squadrons during two years of service.

This dispatch vessel, by her many splendid performances, has justified all expectations.

It is an interesting fact that the grave of John Roach is in Green wood, while his monument overlooks the bay where the naval display occurred in which the Dolphin took an honored part. The maligners who drove him into bankruptcy and death have been cowed into silence or forced to acknowledge the falsehood of their statements in regard to the Dolphin.

A Popular Comedy for Children.

J. B. Orpsland of Mayfield, Penn., who has been engaged in the drug business in Kansas, New Jersey, Florida, New York and Pennsylvania for the past nineteen years, says he has composed a children's comedy, best selling comic dialogue I have ever handled." People use this remedy are so much pleased with it that they recommend it to others and to themselves. There is nothing better for a cold. It relieves the lungs, preventing any tendency toward pneumonia. It is also a pleasant and safety medicine for children. Fifty cent bottles for sale by Power & Reynolds, druggists.

Great Event in Cincinnati.

The new City Hall which has become the pride of Cincinnati, rivaling the Art Museum, Zoological Garden, and even the Music Hall, is to open Saturday evening, May 18th, the ornate dining being delivered by Hon. M. E. Ingalls.

The event will be celebrated by a great state parade, while Cincinnati's best bands, police departments, and the civic societies of Cincinnati, and the United States troops at Fort Thomas will join in the procession.

SPRING CLEANING.

Yes, clean yer house, an' clean yer sheep. But brush the cohers from yer head. An' sweep the snowbank from yer heart. Bring forth the duster an' the broom, an' sweep away the dust of your soul.

Spring out yer m'rhul cuddy holes.

Sweep out the dirt, scrape off the scum; Tis cleanin' time, for healthy bodies.

Scrub out the hesties that burn an' smart,

Bring in the water, an' brush an' soap,

An' dust a cozy chair for Hope.

Clean out the brain's deep rubbush hole,

Ain't in the front room of the soul,

Bring poster pleat on poster on the wall,

Clean up an' let the spring begin;

Spring out the April sunshine in.

Plant flowers in the soul's front yard,

Set out new shrub and blossoms, trees,

Sprout crocuses of new ideas.

Clean out the old, dried-up sheds,

An' clean yer barn in ev'ry port;

Brush the snowbanks from yer heart.

Spring out the m'rhul cuddy holes.

JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY is coming next Monday night. What a host of pleasures await us all! Come and be a part of the fun. To see and hear the great poet, "Down to Old Aunt Mary's," to listen to his great soulful forth, honest words on the quaint characters we have known all the way through his life. Listen to his apothegisms and drop a tear or two over some great truth we can conceive. Riley found his way to the people through his adherence to honesty truth. We love his creations because we know them well. He is a poet of the people. You may never have another opportunity of seeing him. He is rightly styled "the Burns of America."

The N. & G. Taylor Company of Philadelphia writes to The American Economic:

"Our tin plate works in Philadelphia were erected during last year.

In them we are now
turning out American tin plate at the rate of a complete finished box per minute, and of better quality and finish than we have received from Great Britain for many years.

"To those newspaper publishers who have endeavored to prevent the establishment of this great industry in this country we can only say that their action must be based upon entire ignorance of the trade, or a desire to gain political notoriety, for we do not believe the man exists who, with a clear knowledge of the industry, will honestly contend it is one that could not or should not be carried on in America with the same success as thousands of others."

"There is nothing mysterious about the manufacture of the plate. It is simply sheet iron or steel, prepared and coated with pure tin for utensils, or a mixture of tin and lead for roofing purposes. Its value is regulated by the quality and thickness of the iron or steel, the quality or quantity of the metal coating used, and the manner in which the finished plate is made."

"The value of American tin plates, therefore, consists in the value of American sheet iron or steel, the cost of the coating and the labor of combining the same. If America should purchase her tin plate in Great Britain, she would close her industries and get all the sheet iron and steel used in tin plates from the same source. The superiority of the American product has been quickly and fully appreciated by the tin plate workers, who now give it the preference, and thereby have created a demand which has caused the output of American tin plate to increase to such an extent that the sworn returns of the manufacturers for the three months ending December 31st, 1862, show an increase of 229 per cent. over the first three months after the industry started, and an increase of 80 per cent. over the three months ending September 30th, 1862, and each succeeding quarter is likely to exhibit great progress in this important industry."

Crowds numbering from 5,000 to 7,000 people are flocking to hear Sam Jones at Fades.

TARS ASHORE.

The Last Day of the Naval Festivities.

All the Nations Displayed Their Navies on Broadway.

The Flags of Nine Nations Flutter Lovingly Together as the Dandy Marines March Down the Dandy Parade Viewed by a vast throng.

NEW YORK, April 29.—Respectable was the gathering of foreign monarchs, nobles, and naval officers, and naval reviews, still more remarkable was the spectacle presented Friday. The uniformed forces of foreign nations, armed and accoutred as for battle, marched in our streets. With them, arrayed on either side of the foreigners invaded our soil and marched down America's greatest street, Broadway. Grim, fierce-looking Russians, together with sturdy Britons, dapper Frenchmen and well-veined Italians marched in file after file, with their own officers commanding and with their own bands playing the airs that they love best. Our marines and blue jackets preceded them and our national ensign was followed by bayoneted fixed.

The first suggestion that our visitors be invited to land their men and take part in a land parade was declared by the big wigs of our navy to be out of the question. It was not until Friday evening, when the British admiral said that the foreign admirals were asked if they would land their men. The heartiness with which nearly all the forces accepted the invitation when it was extended indicated the good will existing between the governments and peoples.

The British admiral and his men were dined and feted, and the day arrived when the middies, the relocated marines, the artillerymen and the blue jackets would have their turn. Hence there was joy between the decks Friday evening, when the admiral said that the foreign admirals were asked if they would land their men. The heartiness with which nearly all the forces accepted the invitation when it was extended indicated the good will existing between the governments and peoples.

A GOLDEN NAIL

To Be Driven in the Woman's World's Fair Building

By Mrs. Palmer Signify the Completion of the Structure.

It is Believed She Will Be Able to Hit the Nail on the Head Every Time—The Button Which the President Will Touch on the Most Eventful of Days.

Chicago, April 30.—It was announced Friday night that Mrs. Potter Palmer will drive a golden nail into the Woman's building at the World's fair Saturday afternoon, April 30, to signify the completion of the building. In preceding at the meeting of the board of lady managers Mrs. Palmer has become expert with the gavel, and her friends think that the handsome lady president will be able to hit the nail on the head, and drive it into the wood of the necessary room without nearly three well-directed blows of the hammer.

The exercises will be simple. Mrs. Eliza Richards, Montana, will deliver the precious nail in its silver casket, and also a gold and pearl bracelet, and Mrs. Palmer will thereupon proceed with her own hands to finish the Woman's building herself. As a matter of fact, the golden nail will be immediately withdrawn and returned to its place in the breast pin, of which it forms a part, and the pin will then be presented to Mrs. Palmer.

There arrived at Director-General Davis' office Friday morning, by express, the button which President Cleveland will touch on Monday to start the machinery of the exposition. It is a small, modern telegraph key and is of solid gold, with an ivory button on the handle. It sits on a pyramidal base, blue, gold and plush twelve inches high. The colors represent those of the American and English nations. On the base of the button are the figures "1893" in silver.

At a meeting of the national commissioners, Friday afternoon, the Sunday closing question was again revived. A resolution was offered by Commissioner O. V. Tamm of Minnesota, calling for the withdrawal from the judiciary committee of the resolution offered April 26 by Commissioner Elbsook of Iowa, referring the matter of re-laying the Sunday opening question to the House Committee on Tuesday and the matter of whether or not the gates should be opened had been settled once, and he saw no reason for bringing it up again.

Mr. Elbsook said he was opposed to the withdrawal of his resolution. He believed the general public would be willing to have it known that the act of congress was contrary to the laws of the state of Illinois. By closing the gates thousands of laborers would be prevented from seeing the fair.

Mrs. Hunterley, of Atlanta, agreed with Mr. Elbsook. He said that the judiciary committee should be given an opportunity to inquire and ascertain if the gates should be legally opened.

After a discussion of considerable length, Mr. Tamm asked permission to withdraw his resolution. It was granted and the motion was withdrawn.

AS FROM THE DEAD.

She Supposed Her Husband Had Sucided—But Not So.

Youngstown, O., April 29.—Eighteen months ago Thomas Foy, a peddler, suddenly left his wife and two children, and a month later a decomposed body was found hanging in the woods and identified as Foy, it being believed he had committed suicide.

Friday his wife was surprised on Foy entering the house, and she fell fainting in his arms. Foy says he left to lead a new life, and has been to Australia and around the world as a steamer roundabout. "I have sown my wild oats and will take good care of my family," said Foy Friday night.

The Youngster's Education.

Washington, April 29.—Now that the naval review is a thing of the past, the distribution of the ships of the American fleet is about to take place. The first steps in this direction were taken Friday by which four of the vessels will go to the Atlantic for patrols. The San Francisco will proceed to the New York may yard Saturday, and the Charleston will go to Norfolk. The Yorktown and Bennington will leave New York waters Monday, the former probably going to the New York yard and latter to Norfolk yard.

On the Home Front.

Pittsburgh, Pa., April 29.—It was 11:35 o'clock Friday morning when the train bearing the president and cabinet pulled into the Union station on its way to Chicago. Notwithstanding the length of the hour, there was a large crowd of spectators in the city, Cleveland, and a detail of thirty officers, necessary to keep them back. The party had not yet retired, but the president was worn out with the exertions of the past two days, and refused to show himself.

Fox's Girls in Fifteen Months.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 29.—Mrs. L. E. Finney, the pretty young wife of L. E. Finney, a prosperous young merchant at Huntsville, Ark., has distinguished herself by presenting her husband with five bouncing baby girls, all within the short space of eleven months.

Laws Imprisonment for Child Murder.
INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 29.—Jennie Carr, the young colored girl who has been on trial in the criminal court the past two days on the charge of murdering her child, was found guilty Friday, and the punishment fixed at imprisonment for life. The prisoner is but 17 years old.
